Sunday October 19

On Sunday October 19, the fleet will cruise down the Rappahannock River and north to Dividing Creek, a distance of 27 miles. The Sunny Neff Race and/or the Henry Race may be held on this leg if conditions are favorable. In Dividing Creek, the fleet will anchor in the vicinity of Lat: 37°44'17.5" N; Lon: 76°19'49.2" and dinghy ashore. See attached charts of Ditchley anchorage and pier.

There is a ¼ mile stroll to the Ditchley Cider Works, 1571 Ditchley Rd, Kilmarnock, VA 22482, where we will enjoy a tour of the restored home and current cider operation followed by drinks and a catered dinner consisting of Grilled Teres Major, roasted herbed chicken breast , wild rice pilaf , broccoli spears, dinner Rolls with honey butter and duck egg pumpkin cheese cake, all locally sourced from the farm. Wine and cider provided. Cash bar for other drinks. Cost will be $80 per person. The tour is anticipated to start at 1600 with drinks at 1700 and dinner at 1800.

Ditchley is a traditional Virginia plantation home, full of history and romance. The current owners, a retired navy captain and her husband a retired navy admiral, have painstakingly restored the property and now operate it as a working farm, orchard, cider works and hospitality venue. Truly a unique location. See <https://www.ditchleyciderworks.com/> for complete information.
