Hotels in Palma

2022 updates in red otherwise 2019 information

While sailing activity has quieted down in September, it is a very popular time for hiking and biking and consequently there is strong demand for hotel rooms. When you have an idea on your travel plans, it is advisable to book now. While policies vary, typically the hotels will allow plans to be adjusted later. Prices quoted are for a double or twin including breakfast and are subject to prior sale or change. Generally greater discounts for early booking. Prices generally include VAT but not City Touristic Tax of 4.40€/person & night which is paid on departure.

Jock and Les visited a number of hotels and following are a list we can recommend. We asked hotels for direct purchase pricing which saves them the 18% booking agency fee. The prices shown below reflect those discounts. You would think these prices would be better than through booking agencies but we have found that is not always the case. It is best to quietly compare the price offered through the agencies when booking.

Let us know where you have booked and issues you identify. We will try to keep this note updated with revisions posted to the CCA Mallorca event website.
