The various goals include finding qualified younger sailors who might be interested in the CCA, engaging younger members of the CCA in participating in CCA activities, and raising the profile and awareness of the CCA among younger people in the sailing community as a whole by leveraging the Bermuda Race, Safety at Sea and the environment of the sea initiatives of the CCA.

Activities will include feeder gams, invitations to past Blue Water Medal winners, a gala banquet likely at NYYC Harbour Court, seeing Newport sights and attractions, publication of two books. The dates are Sept. 18-22, 2022. The Essex Station will be assisting in the sailing Gam and will handle the business meetings part of the week. The committee is seeking volunteers to assist. A virtual tour of the new Sailing Museum was played, and VC Otorowski explained the opportunities for CCA positioning in three areas of the museum which would be funded through CCA member private contributions. 11. Michael Moradzadeh gave the Website report. The website is averaging 4,000 visits per month, mostly by members. His goal is to develop ways to reach out to the sailing public more broadly (in areas such as making resource on safety and seamanship, charts and guides, and environment of the sea available to the public) while continuing the internal focus on member services and information. He has been continually working on upgrading many features including imaging, messaging, new commerce software, external transactions, book sales, SAS. Gulf of Maine newsletter. There was discussion of including member bios, as submitted for the GAM, to be included on the website. There was a round of applause for Michael for his outstanding efforts.

12. Charts and Guides were reported by Doug Bruce. In his detailed report (Powerpoint deck included) indicated that CCA had acquired ownership of the existing guides for some Canadian maritime provinces. There is a restriction to only publish in print for 5 years until going digital. They have been renamed the CCA Cruising Guides. We have an endorsement from Canadian Hydrographics. Wilson Fitt is the editor in charge and spoke to the current efforts and future plans. Sales are going well. John Burnham is consulting. Books can be purchased through Amazon. Copyrights are being sorted out by Steve McInnis. Charts will be added to the guides. 65% of people want both paper and digital. Plans include developing guides to Maine, the PNW, Alaska, Bermuda, Chesapeake, Bahamas, Keys, West coast. The recently published book, Ocean Sailing, is a significant publication and has 17 CCA contributors in the book.

The Meeting of the Governing Board was adjourned at 1400.
